James Keplinger and family arrived from San Francisco last week-end. They have taken a house on Carmelo and Ocean and plan to spend the summer here.

The Sunday swimming meets held at Del Monte each summer officially began last Sunday. Among those present were Eleanor Watson, Joan Tait, Janet Martin, Sue Brownell, Florence Brown, Ted Watson, Ray Draper, Bud Todd, Paul Hart and Clark Tiedemann. The meets start at three o'clock and everyone is cordially invited.

At the same time last Sunday, Burlingame met Del Monte in a base ball game. Those attending were Elizabeth Houghton, Dick Catlett and Gordon Campbell. The game was held at the Polo field.

Arne Anderson drove down from Palo Alto last week-end and is visiting Charles Watson for an indefinite time.

Carl Van Saltza and Mary Loos arrived Sunday from Palo Alto. They are staying with their mother, Mrs. E. B. Griggs at their home on Seventh and Camino Real.

Weekly News Notes From Carmel Valley

S. C. Fertig and family went to the San Mateo dog show last week-end in order that Mrs. Biddle Dorcy might exhibit her Cairn terrier, Blair Atholl of Dorcia. This dog took the trophy and blue ribbon in the novice class at the Del Monte dog show.

The principal activity at the Fertig ranch at present is the training of a lot of new colts for hunters. J. B. Williamson, formerly of Del Monte, is heading this work, assisted by a jockey from Tanforan, Bob Rammage.

Galt Bell, director of many of the productions of the Carmel Community Players has left his home on the Jean Marble ranche for an extended visit to Los Angeles.

Miss Evelyn Smith, teacher at the Carmelo school, is visiting with friends in Berkeley.

Roy Meadows and family went to Palo Alto to attend the commencement exercises of Roy, Jr.

John Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, left Saturday for San Francisco, where he will be stationed on the battleship Arkansas, which will proceed to Seattle and then to the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. Rose De Yoe is spending the summer with her son and daughter-in-law at their home "12 Miles Out."

R. C. DeYoe spent Wednesday in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. McClaughney have returned from a visit to San Francisco.

The Garden Club of Carmel has visited several homes in the Valley among which were the De Yoe and Hazeltine places.

Mrs. Seideneck is taking a vacation from her painting and is devoting herself entirely to ranching.

There are to be no meetings of the Home department of the Carmelo Farm Center during the month of July.

Mrs. Clara Miller and Roy E. Brownell have left the Carmel Valley Tavern and taken the Lansdale place, where they intend to raise chickens, turkeys, and rabbits.

The Carmel Valley Tavern has changed hands. It is now to be run in a real Western style by one who sould know how to do it—Lee Sage. Do you recognize the high-sounding name? It's none other than our old friend 'Snap' Nelson, cowboy, professed 'hoss-thief,' and writer. We expect big things from the picturesque and heretofore quiet Tavern.

The 4-H Club of Carmel Valley is a compact but active group of rural boys and girls, seven of them at present. The officers are: Joe Stewart, president; Eunice Scarlett, vice president; Jean Stewart, secretary; Bernard Schulte, treasurer. The local leader is Mrs. Schulte and the assistant local leader, Ann Elizabeth Martin. The members of the club must either raise a crop or do some sewing in the way of a project. At this time the boys are raising the following: Ariel Scarlett, field corn; Bernard Schulte, Rhode Island Red chickens; Joe Stewart, sweet corn. Among the girls Jean Stewart has made laundry bags, Bernadine Meadows and Eunice Scarlett aprons, and all of them made pajamas. Eunice Scarlett went to Soledad to tell of the activities of the 4-H club at a meeting of the Home department there. Last Friday Mr. Schulte took the group on an inspection of the activities of the boys, after which they repaired to the river for a wienie roast.

Miss Virginia Lee Schulte has just returned from her term at Oregon State College.

Mrs. C. W. Thatcher has returned from Los Angeles bringing with her her father. He is to remain about three weeks on her ranch, the Soledad Dulce.

Misses Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous are spending the summer on the Beatty place.

Farms Are Busy Places

There are several activities occupying the residents of the many large ranches of the valley at this season. The mowing and raking has just been completed, leaving the hay in neat stacks on the fields waiting for the press to compress it into bales. A goodly number of men have been put to work during the past few weeks at this task, and the problem of feeding them has been a pressing one at a few of the homes in the valley.

At the lower end of the valley they are more occupied with orchards than with fields, though one may see quite a few lots covered with young corn there. Stripping apple trees has been in progress for a week now and promises to occupy two or three more. This consists of removing all the apples but one—the largest one—from each cluster, thus giving this one more opportunity to develop. The efficient method of disposing the small green apples, thus removed, is to have a few hogs roaming about below. These animals keep the ground quite clear.

Spraying the orchards seems to be almost a continual process—first for one pest and then another. At present the codling moth is being dispatched from the fruit trees.

The huge fields of artichokes which have met the eye of the traveler in the valley have already produced one crop this year. They were then cut to the ground, the debris burned, and the ground flooded. Cultivation is now under way and another crop will soon make its appearance.

To complete the list, the cherries should be mentioned. They are being gathered for the market and those of Carmel Valley are among the best.

Mrs. Lawrence Fox of Santa Barbara is a summer visitor in Carmel.

Carmel Music Society Opens Summer Season With Pro Arte Quartet

Next Tuesday evening is the night. From the advance interest shown, most of the cars on the Peninsula will be headed toward the Sunset School Auditorium next Tuesday evening, when the Pro Arte String Quartet of Brussels, Belgium, opens the summer season of the Carmel Music Society.

The interest shown is commensurate with the greatness of the Pro Arte group. For over twenty years the four men making up the ensemble known as the Pro Arte String Quartet—first violinist, a second violinist, a violinist, and a cellist have played together. At the very beginning these men set themselvs th highest of standards, and so faithfully have they held to them that they are now known as the greatest string quartet in the world.

Since playing in Carmel last summer, the Pro Arte Quartet has played some one hundred and twenty-five concerts, appearing in almost all the larger cities of the world. They have played in London, Paris, before the king and queen of Belgium, in Portugal, Spain, Italy— everywhere, and everywhere they are accorded the respect and ovation that their superior excellence has won them. Mrs. Coolidge, that great patron of music who has sponsored their activities and first brought them to America, joined them in Italy this last spring and played a piano quintet with them.

The Pro Arte have the largest of repertoires, and play practically every worth while string quartet that has been written. Last winter in Germany they gave a series of concerts, playing all of the string quartets of Haydn, and it is with a Haydn quartet that they will open their first Carmel program, next Tuesday evening.

Following the Haydn will be "Triptique" by Tansman, and the program will close with the immortal harp quartet of Beethoven. Single seats are now selling at the Denny-Watrous Gallery, and season tickets, which give the rehearsal privileges, are still available.

On Saturday afternoon, two to five, June 24, the Denny-Watrous Gallery announces the opening of an exhibit of oils and water-colors by De Neale Morgan. The public is invited in to view the work of this distinguished painter, claimed by Carmel as one of her own.

"Music of Burma and East India" will be the subject of Henry Cawell's seventh talk on his "Musics of the World" on Saturday evening, June 24, in the Denny-Watrous Gallery. The talk is illustrated by very rare records, exhibiting the music of the natives of Burma and East India.

Bluejackets Will See Carmel's Street Fair

By Robert Wells Ritchie

Now the future of an anonymous billiard table is all sewed up in the bag. The sailors are coming to Carmel's mammoth Street Fair on Saturday, July 1.

When the U. S. S. Oklahoma drops anchor in the Monterey roadstead and her hundreds of bluejackets loose on shore leave commence to swarm over the hill to the Peninsula's one big attraction for the day, the Carmel Street Fair there will be something doing.

The executive committee in charge of the Street Fair have made all provisions for moving the Oklahoma's contingent over the grade to the manifold delights which the two upper blocks of Ocean Avenue will set forth on July 1, from four in the afternoon until as far into the night as merrymakers wish to go. A bus service from the Monterey landing stage to the fair has been arranged. A special committee of welcome will provide guides for the bluejackets through the mazes of booths.

Chief of Police Gus England promises there will be no necessity for naval M. P.'s.

Here are just a few of the attractions, listed alphabetically, which the Street Fair will offer to sailors and landsmen alike.

Bird houses, by Chet Shepherd, architect; a bit undersized for seagulls.

Billiousness; optional and only induced by over-indulgence in hot dogs, candy, dill pickles and barbecue.

Boxing by Jack Dalton's aggregation of leather-pushers.

Circus acts, by Vosmer the Showman.

Clowns, by Carmel's best, acting material.

Fortune telling by Kit Cooke and Madam Doreen.

Horseshoe pitching; a Carmel team against the world.

Hula dance, by Ruth Austin's muscle-twitchers.

Minstrel Show, by the Ed Warner Primrose and West veterans.

Magic by Mandu the Magician.

Strength, tests of; by His honor, Mayor Catlin.

SISTER BENVENUTA DRAWS PRAISE FROM SPECTATORS

Since the editorial and reportial staff of Carmel Sun were away Friday and Saturday night, they were unfortunate in not being able to see "Sister Benvenuta," the play put on by Edward Kuster, with his San Francisco and Carmel cast.

The following tribute from Mrs. Navas-Rey is very welcome and the same expressions are heard from the many who had the opportunity to attend. According to word heard on every side, the product was a finished one, staged with infinite patience and which can be attained only by those who love their work. Mrs. Navas-Rey says:

June 18th, 1933

To the Carmel Sun, Carmel.

May one who has witnessed many theatrical performances in Paris, London, Germany and New York, express through the Carmel Sun her appreciation of the really perfect performance given by Edward Kuster of Sister Benvenuta at the Carmel Community Playhouse on June 16th and 17th.

If the legitimate theatre was recognized in the United States as it should be, Carmel would have its reputation established far and wide by such intrinsic perfection, a great deal of the credit going to the cast that enabled Kuster to reach his high objective. Mention should also be made of the exquisite settings for which William Gaskin is responsible.

YVONNE K. NAVAS-REY.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of the Carmel Missionary Society will be held at the Community church on June 28, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Willis G. White will be the principal speaker on "China." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Bob Walker, former Carmel resident, who has been living in Berkeley for some time, visited in Carmel for a few days last week. Walker left for the East from here, on a business trip that will take two or three months.

Pirates of Penzance Is Now in Rehersal At Forest Theater

"Pirates of Penzance", which is to be presented July 1st, 2nd and 3rd in the Forest theatre, will be directed by Arthur Gunderson, with Victor Kearney as stage director.

Rehearsals are being held nightly, and splendid progress is being made. The large chorus of beautiful girls is being costumed in the swashbuckling manner in which we all delight.

The principal parts will be played by Richard the Pirate Chief—Dr. R. A. Kocher.

Samuel, Pirate Lieutenant—Menno Scholter.

Frederick, Pirate Apprentice—Lew Jones.

Major General —Rosalyn Jones.

Mabel—Kathleen Murphy.

Kate, Edith and Isabel, the Major's daughters— Peggy Cooper, Marie De Riemer and Edwina Pinkham.

Ruth, Piratical Maid of All Work—Anna Marie Baer.

Sargeant of Police — Dr. David Matzke.

The setting for the "Pirates of Penzance" consists of the woods on a rocky sea coast, peculiarly appropriate to the natural setting of the Forest theatre. Sets are being designed by Clay Otto.

A large orchestra under the personal direction of Arthur Gunderson will play the lilting score of the Gilbert and Sulivan opera. Costumes are in charge of Miss Yaw.

The rich and racy humor of the lines, both in lyrics and libretto, are too well-known for a detailed description. The vast number who know the opera from reading it or from the stage will welcome this revival.

Nothing quite so gorgeously delightful in the realm of light opera has been in Carmel for years. Reservations may be made at any of the drug stores in Carmel, and the tickets set aside when available. Prices will range from fifty cents to seventy-five cents and a dollar.

CHIROPRACTORS ENJOY MEETING THURSDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Tri-County Chiropractic Society was held at Buckhart's Cafe in Watsonville on Thursday evening, June 15. Those present enjoyed a chicken dinner, after which a very fine musical program was heard.

Dr. T. J. Bennett of San Francisco gave a very enlightening talk on the nervous system, and demonstrated the latest technique in the control of the sympathetic nerves.

Dr. Grant Phillips of Carmel was elected to serve as president of the organization for the coming year; Dr. Martin Church of Santa Cruz, vice president, and Dr. Clinton Tawse of Monterey secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at the office of Dr. Viola Leonard in Watsonville on July 20th.

MANY GUESTS HERE TO SEE KUSTER'S PLAY

The production "Sister Benvenuta" brought many visitors to Carmel. From San Francisco came Miss Rose Mary DeCamp, Miss Barbara Perkins, Mrs. Perkins and William Gaskins, all members of the cast, and guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster.

Miss Marie Rossi, Miss Katherine Wagner, Earl Hirschey and William Moore, also members of the cast, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hooper.

Miss Barbara Sutro visited her aunt, Miss Ellen O'Sullivan, and Mr. and Mrs. John Palache. Dr. and Mrs. Horace Dormody entertained Mrs. Gunnar Johannsen, and Mrs. Mildred Sahlstrom Wright entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keefe and Dr. Albert Van Houte.

Another Community play is planned for July 6, 7 and 8.

Colonel Baker, from the state university, who has been lecturing the firemen from this district, gave his last talk at Oak Grove last evening. The firemen have been greatly interested and feel that the course has been very beneficial.

Mandu The Magician For Boy Scout Show

Mandu the magician, with all of his startling stunts will thrill the hearts of children, both old and young, next Thursday afternoon, June 29th, at the Carmel Theatre, when the benefit show for the boy scouts will be given.

Tom Tyler in "Deadwood Pass" a moving picture will prove to be exciting entertainment, especially as Tyler is to appear in person.

The show is presented by local scouts, the committee in charge being Hermann Crossman, Louise Levinson, Hurd Comstock, Otto Bardarson, Everett Smith and John Neikirk.

Two-fifteen is the time set for the show, and a good time will be had by all.

LURE OF FIRE ENGINES COSTS MAN TEN DOLLARS

The lure of the fire engine proved too much for W. J. Hillman, Pacific Grove laundry truck driver, when Carmel fire trucks raced to Third and Lincoln streets last week in response to an alarm.

With a deftness of which he was proud, Hillman drove his truck in and around and about the racing engines, in what he claims was a pure and unalloyed desire to assist in quenching the fire.

He was fined ten dollars in Judge Wood's court for interfering with the firemen, in spite of his altruistic intentions, and it is to be assumed that Hillman will watch his next fire from a safe distance.

FRED WEBER PLEASED WITH CARMEL TRADE

Fred Weber, who recently came here from Monterey, is very enthusiastic over Carmel and is delighted with the reception given him here. Though perhaps Fred is Carmel's youngest businessman, he has gained the confidence of his customers by his thorough knowledge of his trade. His father is a packer, and from him he learned to tell good meat when he sees it, and from his cousin with whom he worked for several years, he learned meat cutting and his ability along these two lines show that he has had training by those who cared to see him succeed. Fred is located next door to Leidig's and takes care of the Sunday trade by remaining open every Sunday morning.—Adv.

HOWARD LINSLEY AN ARTIST

"If a hundred notes were required for one beat, Howard Linsley would strike every one perfectly." So said an enthusiast in speaking of the open rehearsals which are being held each Sunday and Monday night at the Denny-Watrous gallery. Perhaps she exaggerated slightly but with our habit of over emphasis, we have made it necessary to exaggerate in order to describe such marvelous technique as that of Howard Linsley, pianist. Again this Monday night, the gallery was packed to hear Michel Penha, Nathan Abas, Abraham Weiss and Howard Linsley, and an appreciative audience it was. Four masters of music gathered together. No hesitancy and no discord. Only perfect harmony. If you have missed these two rehearsals, treat yourself by going early for the next rehearsal.

CHANGE OF VOTING PLACE

Voters of Precinct No. 1 will vote at the Murphy cottage on the northeast corner of Monte Verde and Ninth, and not on Casanova street as given out in the notices which came with the sample ballot.

Mrs. Etta Stackpole and son Howard, who for the past six months have made their home at Hotel La Ribera recently left for San Jose where Mrs. Stackpole expects to spend some time before returning to Carmel.

Among the recent newly wed couples who spent part of their Honeymoons in Carmel stopping at Hotel La Ribera were, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Shuey of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Phil B. Davis of Berkeley who were married Tuesday afternoon at a double wedding held in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roberts of Auburn and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robey of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith of Oakland.

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel

DAR ESALAM, HOUSE OF PEACE

Interesting people come to Carmel. One of the latest additions is Gabriel Afana, born in Bethlehem, city of Christ, and making his home in the United States for the past 29 years. Mr. Afana has opened up a new store on Dolores where he sells all sorts of oriental goods, from lovely Persian hand made rugs to small tapestries from Italy. During his twenty-nine years here, Mr. Afala has spent a great deal of time in lecturing and he has some of the things with him which he carried on his tours. Donning his Bedouin costume, he explains that the head dress protects the wearer from the desert sun and sands in the summer and the cold in the winter. The long robe, he said, was such as that worn by Christ. Mr. Afana as his grandmother's headgear, more than 200 years old, on which is fastened her dowry, with the exception of a few pieces which she removed after the death of her husband. The story of the dowry, too—that is interesting. Not one coin may be clipped from this headgear while the husband is alive, but, should the husband pass on, some merchant of the tribe will estimate how many coins the widow may spend each week until her eldest son shall have reached the age of twenty years. Should a coin be surreptitiously taken by the husband, as for instance to buy liquor with, his fellow tribesmen punish him severely until he replaces it. Mr. Afala has also his mother's wedding dress, made on the style of the "wedding garment" as spoken of in the scriptures. Mr. Afala is also an astrologer and delights in reading the character of those who come into his store. He takes much of his knowledge of this art from the Bible, with which he is thoroughly familiar. He is interesting; he is likeable, this latest addition to Carmel's business section, proprietor of Dar Esalam, "House of Peace."

ORCHESTRA REHEARSAL ENJOYED ON SUNDAY

An intimate group of music lovers attended the open rehearsal of the Peninsula orchestra Sunday night. Vieuxtemp's 4th concerto was the first to be practiced, followed by Corelli's 8th concerto, the suite Algerienne of Saint-Saens and the Marche Militaire by the same composer.

It is a revelation to hear this music in the making. When a finished product is listened to, running on so smoothly, each instrument assisting in creating a harmonious whole, one can have no conception of the work and direction which have gone into the creation of this perfection.

Michel Penha, with his fine feeling for the spirit of music, instills into the members of the orchestra a new conception of the meaning of music, and his direction brings out amazing bits of fine interpretation after halting inexperienced efforts on the part of the orchestra.

Penha's unfailing good humor, with his ability for stimulating each one to his best, will undoubtedly carry the orchestra to a high level musically, and the concerts are being looked forward to with great interest.

Mary Wolfe, whose parents are renting a house on Carmelo and Second this month, is entertaining two girls from San Francisco.

CARMEL MAN CROWDED FROM HIGHWAY; INJURED

Though his car was overturned and burning and he himself dazed from shock and injury, W. S. Frolli of Carmel Woods had the presence of mind to smash a window and make his escape after he was crowded from the highway near Saucito Rancho on the Salinas-Monterey highway Saturday night.

Mr. Frolli was picked up by a man from Redding who brought him home and he was taken to the Carmel hospital where it was found he was suffering from an injured back, torn ligaments, and cuts and bruises.

When the car came to a stop, Mr. Frolli said, he found himself in the back part of the car and noticed that it had started burning and immediately exerted himself to get free.

The car, a Buick sedan, was almost completely burned, but was insured.

The driver of the other car has not been apprehended.

CALIFORNIA NEWS REVIEW

President Roosevelt has been invited by Governor Rolph to press a button in Washington that will set off the first blast for the construction of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge at groundbreaking ceremonies July 9th on Yerba Buena Island. The President also was asked to give a radio talk.

Fire which broke out in the commissary of the Civilian Conservation Corps camp fifteen miles south of Toll House recently, destroyed the kitchen, mess hall and three wooden barracks, housing the 200 young forest workers, among whom are fifty Fresnans. Damage was estimated at not more than $8000.

Answering a question which is evidently on the tip of thousands of tongues throughout Southern California, Secretary-Manager C. B. Afflerbaugh of Los Angeles County Fair, in a recent statement issued at the fair offices in Pomona, said that the big fair will not only be held as usual this fall, but that it promises to be bigger than ever.

The west side district was visited by the first grain fire of the season recently, when 100 acres of standing barley was destroyed on the E. A. Brim Ranch, seven miles west of Williams. Most of the barley and other grain in this district is of little or no value because of the dry season, but the grain on the Brim Ranch would have averaged about twenty sacks to the acre, making harvest profitable.

Welfare Agent Elmer Koken has been advised that an additional $2,500 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds is available for Lassen County for the month of June. It had been previously announced that funds from this source would cease June 1st, but the new appropriation has made the additional money available. It is probable that this amount will be used for indigents' grocery bills.

Several European countries lost 117 subjects recently in Los Angeles county when they became citizens of of the United States, their final papers being issued by Naturalization Director Olive Pixley after United States District Judge McCormick administered the oath of allegance. Sixty per cent of the new citizens were formerly subjects of King George of Great Britain.

The first ten camps to be established in the national forests and national parks of California, in order of priority as determined by S. B. Show, chief of the United States Forest Service at San Francisco and regional co-ordinator for the President's emergency conservation work, are: Angeles Forest—Dalton Canyon, Piru Canyon; Yosemite National Park—Wawona; San Bernardino Forest—Camp Radford; Sierra Forest—Sugarpine; Sequoia National Park—Potwisha; Shasta Forest—Castella; Santa Barbara Forest (Monterey division)—Arroyo Seco; Cleveland Forest—Pine Valley; Eldorado Forest—Riverton.

United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo is working on the project to establish a Civilian Conservation Corps camp on Mud Creek in control of Mount Shasta glacial debris flow into the McCloud and Sacramento rivers. Feasibility of the project is under study and the question whether a permanent solution of the silt deposits in northern streams can be worked out will be a determining factor in government aid, according to a communication from McAdoo's office in Washington. United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson and Congressman Harry L. Englebright already are actively seeking authority for assignment of a C.C.C. camp to the affected regions.

Friend W. Richardson, State building and loan commissioner and former governor, was sued for $25,000 damages recently in Oakland by Roy Dorothy, a former employe in Richardson's Los Angeles office. Dorothy based his suit on a letter alleged to have been written in July, 1932, by Richardson to William Browning, chief of the State division of personnel and organization, in which Dorothy was accused of spending two hours a day dictating personal letters to his wife. Dorothy, who was receiving a salary of $225 a month as supervising clerk, lost his position shortly after the letter was received, he alleged. His wife at the time was a State civil service stenographer employed at $140 a month.

The Alameda county supervisors recently refused a request of City Manager Hollis R. Thompson of Berkeley that the county take over the emergency hospital service of the College City.

Advancing prices in raw jute has dictated a 1 cent advance in the price of San Quentin Prison grain bags, it was announced by Warden James B. Holohan. Limited orders for October shipment only, are being accepted at this time for standard size grain bags at 6 cents each, f.o.b. San Quentin.

Silver imports at San Francisco have been stimulated by the premium on the metal in this country. So marked is the gain in imports that the quantity imported in May nearly tripled that of May last year, and more than doubled the April arrivals. May imports were 1,400,100 ounces, valued at $451,939, compared with 500,404 ounces worth $145,787 in May, 1932, and 681,692 ounces in April this year worth $186,421. San Francisco silver imports thus far this year total 3,558,946 ounces, worth $1,019,817—most of it from Shanghai—while the same five months last year saw brought in 2,704,528 ounces then worth $826,894.

Here is irony. California's production of barley the first year of the new "brew age" will be the smallest in several seasons. The federal-state crop reporting service forecast a yield of 550,000 tons, compared with last year's production of 942,000 tons and a five-year average of 608,000 tons. The wheat output also is "off," the forecast now being for 279,720 tons, or 40,000 tons under 1932, which also was a year of sub-normal production. Grazing areas are reported to have made some improvement due to the cool, humid weather in May, but the service still foresees the poorest forage conditions in fifteen years, except for 1924 and 1931.

Problems in connection with construction of the $150,000 postoffice building at Visalia, which resulted in an investigation by a government construction engineer, have been satisfactorily adjusted, according to Postmaster Becker. Charles E. Gordon, government construction engineer, came to Visalia to investigate following instructions from Treasury officials. This action was taken following protest from the Chamber of Commerce to officials in Washington in regard to asserted transportation of workers from other points and manufacture of forms outside of Visalia. Murch Brothers of St. Louis, contractors, upon receiving protests instructed their local superintendent to employ Visalia help and use local materials as far as possible.

The oak tree moth, which in the last two years has left a broad zone of destruction from Montecito to the Ventura River, is beginning to meet an insect enemy which may finally spell its destruction. This was made public recently by Rodney Cecil of the United States Bureau of Entomology, who has discovered a parasite which is making headway against the moth that strips giant live oak trees bare of leaves. Cecil said that on Sulphur Mountain, which is the farthest east the oak tree moth's ravages so far have been noted, he had found a small wasp destroying the moth. This is accomplished by the laying of eggs in the moth's larvae. The wasp is scientifically known as Itoclectis behrensi. Nearly all the live oaks in the Poste; Park and Santa Ana Valley sections which two months ago were stripped bare of leaves today are coming out with a new green dress.

Over $1,000,000 will be brought into the Lindsay district by the Valencia orange crop, the present outlook indicates. Better prices in citrus markets of the East marked the situation as first shipments from the Lindsay district were reaching the auctions. Sales averaging around $3 per box, deducting $2 to $2.10 for packing and freight, will mean an approximate return of a dollar for the grower. On the estimated 1200 cars, or 834,000 boxes, expected to move from this district, growers will receive around $500,000. Local growers will receive $1 per box as their portion of the packing and shipping charge, bringing more than $500,000 for them, or over $1,000,000 for the district as the proportion of local help employed in the packing houses is very high this season. Institution of the pro-rate is expected to steady the price and perhaps bring some advance.

Gov. Rolph recently signed Senator Arthur H. Breed's bill amending in several respects the act providing for regulation of companies, agents and brokers handling the sale of securities under the supervision of the State Commissioner of Corporations. Some of the new provisions or newly phrased sections written into the law are: Whenever the commissioner is of the opinion that further sale of securities by any company would be unfair or inequitable to purchasers he may order such company to desist from further sales. If a requested hearing is not held within sixty days the order shall be deemed to have been rescinded. On receipt of application to do business the commissioner shall determine that the proposed sale of securities will be fair and not fraudulent. All certificates shall expire on December 31 unless sooner suspended or revoked. An applicant shall file $5000 bond.

Dry for twenty-five years, Redlands has voted 1,852 to 1,672 to permit sale of wine and beer.

The Caldwell sawmill on the Great Northern Railway two miles west of Bieber has gone on double shift and is cutting between 70,000 and 80,000 feet of lumber a day. Owing to wet weather that delayed logging operations, the mill did not start up until the first of this month. It is employing half a hundred men at the mill itself and in the woods.

UNEMPLOYED RELIEF COUNCIL EXPLAINS ITS AIMS AND PLANS

About seventy members were present at the annual meeting of the Unemployed Relief Council held recently when plans were made for the coming year and a new board of directors elected as follows:

H. D. Coon, president; Ted K. Clark, vice president and general manager; W. J. Allen, secretary; W. A. Swain, treasurer; members of executive board, M. A. Shook, O. H. Rogers, C. A. Cain, K. C. McGill and J. H. Morehouse.

The following statement issued by the board will be found of interest, as is the entire plan, when investigated.—

"A misunderstanding has arisen between the general public and the Unemployed Relief Council. This misunderstanding may be in part our fault. No organization can grow the way ours has grown without making some mistakes. We have had a big job on our hands and in the strenuous effort required to build up the council and to solve daily problems we haven't always had the time to exercise that sober second thought that helps to reduce errors.

"In order to clarify the situation, therefor, we desire to again state the reasons for our existence.

1st. The Unemployed Relief Council is not a contracting organization but an employment agency whose sole function is to furnish labor to contractors and others who need it at the going wage for the class of labor furnished.

2nd. The Council is not a charitable institution.

3rd. Its plan is to trade its one possession, labor, for cash or produce so that its members may live until such time as conditions change and they are able to become self-supporting and that it stands squarely on these basic principles.

And, finally, without blaming anyone or criticizing anything that has occurred in the past, it instructs its president, its general manager and the heads of its various departments to see that the purposes for which it was organized and which have been set forth above shall be strictly adhered to.

"Passed unanimously by the Executive Board of the Unemployed Relief Council at a special meeting held June 15, 1933."

The council is anxious to get clothes, shoes, furniture, or anything which may be repaired for use. If you have any of these things which you do not need, and wish to exchange for labor, call 6767 Monterey. They will be called for and taken to the work rooms.

Jute sacks are requested as they are used for pine cones, sold for kindling, and the council also needs paper bags.

If anyone in Carmel wishes to help these men help themselves, they will please call J. H. Morehouse at 412J.

CARMEL HOUSES FILLING FOR SUMMER MONTHS

Now that schools have closed for the vacation period, owners of houses in Carmel are busy cleaning, putting up new draperies, putting on new paint and doing various other things to prepare for the influx of summer visitors who have already begun to arrive.

By the 17th of June, one real estate office had rented 17 houses that month for the summer, another reported 21 rentals to be taken up in June, and all report a general movement toward sales and leases. More and more strange faces are seen and more people are seen greeting old friends.

Those who have been in the habit of coming here, are glad to be back, and those who are arriving for the first time are delighted with the future outlook.

When asked about the rental prices for the summer the agents said, without exception, that while there had been a slight lowering, the majority of the places were being leased at the usual rate.

A brush fire between Tenth and Eleventh on Camino Real brought out the fire department Monday morning, shortly after eight o'clock. James Williams and Charles Guth were called out Monday evening to extinguish a small fire which was burning along a fence on Thirteenth.
